CITY EDUCATORS HIT EXCURSIONS OF HIGH PUPILS

Board of Education Bars Out-

Out-of-town "expeditions" by high school students after approved school functions were hit by a ruling adopted by the Board of Education and Sup't. Frank Fischer Tuesday evening.

The ruling follows: "In the future any student who is known to leave Circleville after an approved school function is ended will be prohibited from attending the next approved social function until such time as permitted by the board, and will be subject to any other penalty deemed advisable by the board."

Accident Aftermath

The ruling resulted from numerous reports of pupils making auto trips to nearby cities after attending social affairs. Recently six high pupils narrowly escaped injury when an auto in which they were riding figured in a collision with a truck on Route 23 south.

Board members held a lengthy discussion on the subject and were informed the problem had been considered by teachers previous to the board meeting.

Members explained they wanted pupils to have good times but they wanted co-operation of parents in breaking up this practice. Since many of these "expeditions" have been made after functions some of the blame has been shifted to school authorities.

Five Given Approval

In recent years the board has approved five major social functions each year. This year the list included the Hallowe'en, Girl Reserves, Stooze, Hi-Y and Junior-Senior dance.

Deadly Snake, At Large, Spreads Fear in Hotel

Charmer Sought as Adder Attacks Its Owner, Escapes from Room; Man's Arm Removed in Effort to Save Life; Hope Wanes

MONTREAL, May 6.—(UP)—A four-foot adder, one of the deadliest snakes known, was loose in a hotel today while doctors fought desperately to save the life of its first victim. Police sent out an emergency call for a snake charmer.

Fearful that death would result should the snake strike unawares, Police guarded all exits pending the arrival of Miss Florence Zoda, a snake charmer and assistant to Edward E. Smith of Schriener, La., who was bitten when he took the adder from its cage.

Smith was in a hospital with less than a 50-50 chance of survival according to doctors. His left arm had been amputated below the elbow. A snake farm operator, Smith kept several reptiles in a cage in his hotel room. He was trying to treat the adder for an ailment when it broke free and tore into his wrist with its fangs.

PRESIDENT RUNS WELL

F. D. R. Defeats Sinclair, McGroarty in California;
Wins Complimentary

BY UNITED PRESS

Gov. Alf M. Landon's drive for the Republican presidential nomination received its first setback in yesterday's primary in California, incomplete but sizeable returns indicated today.

Delegates pledged to him were trailing by approximately 65,000 votes an unpledged slate considered friendly to former President Herbert Hoover.

In South Dakota, the Kansas governor was running a close race with Sen. William E. Borah in incomplete returns from yesterday's Republican preference primary. The returns indicated that the state's delegation to the national convention would be divided.

Sinclair, McGroarty Trail

President Roosevelt won an easy victory in California. The delegation pledged directly to him was leading delegations pledged to Upton Sinclair, EPIC leader, and Rep. John Steven McGroarty, Townsend pension plan advocate, by overwhelming majorities.

In South Dakota, the president, unopposed in the Democratic preference primary, received a large complimentary vote. He also won the state's convention vote.

Incomplete returns from Indiana's congressional primaries indicated that Democrats had received a larger total vote than Republicans.

In Alabama, the biennial Democratic primary, divulged a sharp split over the method by which national delegates, pledged to President Roosevelt, had been "hand-picked" by the state committee. The split, however, had nothing to do with the president's candidacy, being a state party quarrel.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—(UP)—Democrats rallied behind President Roosevelt, while a majority of Republicans expressed preference for uninstructed convention delegates in California's presidential primary, returns showed today.

Thurston's Will Provides Mystery

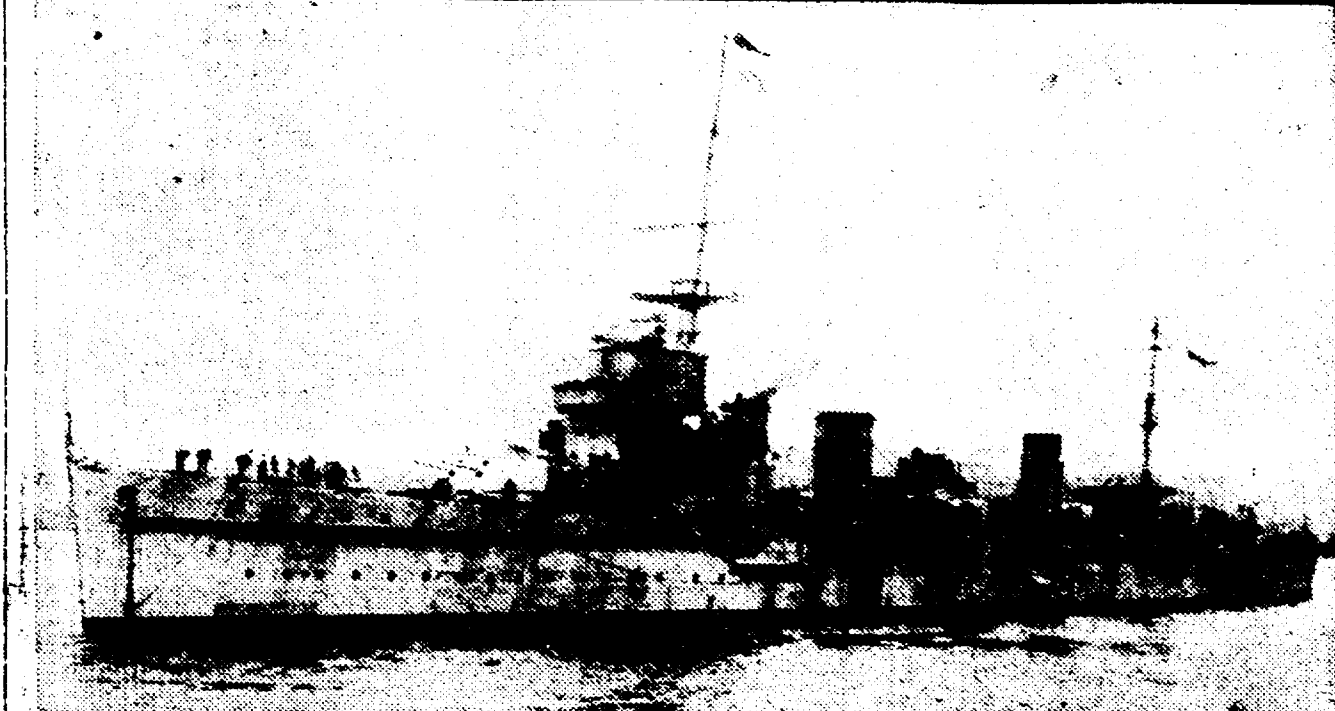

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 6.—(UP)—Howard Thurston, the magician, baffled another audience today—from beyond the grave.

His will, a strange document filed and admitted to probate by Surrogate John Gavin, ordered that his wife, Mrs. Paula Frances Thurston, forfeit his estate unless she keeps a secret agreement between them.

If she fails—and apparently her own conscience is to be the sole judge—the money is to be used to build a mausoleum in Columbus, Ohio.

The will, as puzzling in many of its features as some of the inter-

BURR GONGWER SERIOUSLY ILL

Ohio Democratic Leader Has Emergency Operation

CLEVELAND, May 6.—(UP)—Burr Gongwer, leader of the Cuyahoga-co Democratic organization for the last 20 years, was seriously ill at a Cleveland hospital today.

Gongwer was operated on late yesterday for acute appendicitis. The appendix was ruptured.

Dr. V. Raymond Barney, a son-in-law and one of the attending physicians, reported Gongwer spent a "favorable night."

Gongwer was unable to go to his office either Sunday or Monday. He complained of stomach pains, but they were not regarded as serious.

The Democratic leader was scheduled to act as chairman of a meeting of precinct committee-men and candidates here last night. A physician forbid him to appear and he dictated a message to be read the party adherents.

Gongwer's domination of the Democratic organization in Cuyahoga county had been challenged seriously in recent weeks and he had been more active than at any time during his 20 year rule. Gongwer is the recognized county party leader although Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, is the titular head.

PLANE SPEEDING EAST IN EFFORT TO SET RECORD

WICHITA, Kansas, May 6.—(UP)—A light monoplane believed by Night Dispatcher Jack Rhynsberger to be the one in which two California youths are seeking a non-stop west-east transcontinental speed record passed over the Wichita airport at 5:14 a. m. today. Rhynsberger said the flyers apparently checked their position, then headed east on the air route to St. Louis.

The plane was believed to be that in which Bob Buck and Lee Bellingrath took off from Union Air Terminal, Los Angeles, at 4:34 p. m. (PST) yesterday.

The youths hoped to break the French light plane mark of 1,809 miles. This would take them east of Indianapolis, Ind. With the aid of a brisk tail wind, they hoped to reach New York.

WOODEN GAS PIPES INSTALLED IN 1859 FOUND BY WORKERS

Some of the old wooden gas pipes installed in Circleville streets in 1859 for artificial gas were uncovered on the E. Mill-st WPA sanitary sewer project, Tuesday.

The majority of these pipes were removed from the streets in 1883. They were made of cypress and reinforced with hoops. Ends of the pipes were cut so they wedged together and were sealed with tar. The wood was treated, then rolled in sand.

JORDAN URGES RIVER CONTROL

Wire Sent to President Asking Action at Once

COLUMBUS, May 6.—(UP)—A demand for action on proposed flood control legislation at the present session of congress was contained today in a telegram sent to President Roosevelt by Alan Jordan, executive secretary of the Ohio Valley Conservation and Flood Control Congress.

"You are quoted by press associations as having told congressional leaders flood control measures can wait until the next session of congress," the telegram read. "Please correct this impression at once. Our case is one of human emergency and economic threat. Our people look to you for action at this session of congress."

In a statement, Jordan urged those interested in the valley flood control to impress upon national leaders by letter or telegram "the necessity for flood control legislation immediately."

Mussolini Names New Governor

Rights Are Pledged

ROME, May 6.—(UP)—Benito Mussolini, premier of Italy, has been appointed governor of Ethiopia. It was announced officially today. Italian troops occupied Addis Ababa yesterday.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(UP)—The Italian Ethiopian situation today appeared to present a new department with a number of international complications arising from the American policy of non-recognition of territorial gains in violation of treaties.

The non-recognition policy applied in the case of Mexico and Japan, arose today in connection with the department in connection with the subjugation of Ethiopia.

State department officials, claiming to discuss this phase of the Italian-Ethiopian problem, admitted it was a complicated situation.

American relations with the east, particularly with Japan, are likely to be affected by the position which this government finally and officially takes toward Ethiopia's new status.

It is believed unlikely that President Roosevelt or Secretary of State Cordell Hull will make any official pronouncement of policy until the Italian government has decided what status it will give conquered Ethiopia.

President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull both have enunciated an American policy the principle that "no state has the right to intervene in the internal or external affairs of another." Large at the instigation of this government, that principle has been written into treaties which

WELL ATTACK ON TION OF U. S.

Continue Raids;
Foreigners Secure
Troops Arrive

By BEN AMES
CINCINNATI, May 6—(UP)—
Under the rifles and machettes of the conquering Italian army, 3,000 foreigners including Americans visualized today return to the semblance of normal life which alone is possible in Ethiopia.

American legation was under attack by a detail of Italians, late last night at the request of Vice Consul William H. Cramp and three navy wireless and repelled an attack by Ethiopian bandits.

For four days we were in a completely without government, no ruler, no ministry, no services, no army, no police, the city is under the stern law of its conquerors.

In Strategic Spots
Italians are in occupation of strategic centers of the city and dominating Mt. Entoto, forms a semi-circle around the city. Askari troops are waiting orders.

With another reporter
I went to meet the Italian column to ascertain when the arrival of the army was expected, to relieve the legations.

Legations was provided with Italian soldiers long ago in order to meet the attack and be accredited as a Press staff correspondent (their arrival).

At the advance unit received the order to proceed with the greatest dispatch, and four later motorcycles, trucks and high tanks came in from the east, to pass the eucalypt groves of the fortified British into the city.

The first troops were posted themselves about the city, drilled exactly as to duties and provided with to permit them to make way through the tortuous streets. Marshal Pietro Badoglio was watched silently. The guards of the British legation where American Minister Melius Van H. Engert and his unarmed, presented arms before their barbed wire at the order of William F. Charter, their commandant.

Badoglio returned the salute
with him were Alpine troops, engineers, native As-sians, marching, and then Askari
infantry and artillery.

Flag Staff Erected
The troops erected a flag staff at the center of the city and Bad-oglio went on to the old imperial palace and the Italian legation to establish his headquarters.

Within an hour Italian wireless stations were manning the Ethiopian government wireless station.
Badoglio issued special orders that no mercy was to be shown to bandits but that the townspeople as a whole were to be encouraged to feel that the Italians were friends and liberators, not enemies.

There was a noticeable quieting
of the general situation.
The late night attack on the American legation was the only incident reported, though there was scattered rifle firing during the night.

open, which would have permitted the snake to escape.

He arrived in Montreal several weeks ago with a collection of snakes to stage "a battle to the death" between a king cobra and a rattlesnake for the benefit of newspapermen. The scheduled performance was a failure. The "deadly enemies" of the snake world coiled around one another lovingly and went to sleep. Smith picked them up and threw them around, without arousing either.

Explaining that he was immune to snake bites, he cut a vein of his wrist with a pair of scissors and fed them his blood. Still they wouldn't fight.

"I have only rattlers and coonraters with me," he said, "but I'll send to my farm in Louisiana for a real fighter and I'll put on a show with him you'll never forget."

The adder, it was believed, was the snake Smith had sent for.
Believed Egyptian
Smith is believed to be an Egyptian named Saud who changed his name when he migrated to the United States.

The Royal Victoria hospital house surgeon, who is attending Smith, said that it was impossible to say definitely whether the stricken man would survive. The venom was working through his system and his only chance was that the poison would dissipate before it reached his heart or lungs. The venom, the doctor said, caused no pain or paralysis. It acted as a general anaesthesia.

DUCE BLAITS ETHIOPIA IS NOW OWN TERRITORY

the United States has signed and ratified.

Closely connected is the Stimsonian doctrine, since written into treaty form, that territories and special rights acquired by force of arms in violation of existing treaties shall not be accorded official recognition. Former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson laid down that policy in January, 1932 in connection with the Sino-Japanese conflict and the subsequent establishment of Manchukuo. The Stimson doctrine was approved and furthered by the Roosevelt regime.

It was written into article eleven of the Saavedra-Lamas anti-war pact, negotiated at the seventh Pan-American conference at Montevideo in 1933.

This article says:
"The contracting states definitely establish as a rule of their conduct the precise obligation not to recognize territorial acquisitions or special advantage which have been obtained by force, whether this force consists in the employment of arms, in threatening diplomatic representations, or in any other effective coercive measure."

"The territory of a state is inviolable and may not be the object of military occupation nor of other measures of force imposed by another state directly or indirectly or for any motive whatever, even temporarily."

Thus it appeared unlikely that the United States can, with good face, recognize any overlordship which Italy may establish over Ethiopia. The United States has never officially recognized the state of Manchukuo and speculation was raised whether the United States could recognize the new status of Ethiopia without offense to Japan.

BORAH AND TAFT SPEED CONTEST FOR OHIO VOTES

Alice Longworth to Speak in Cleveland Tonight for Cincinnati

COLUMBUS, May 6. (UP)—The contest for delegates to the Republican national convention between the forces of Senator William E. Borah and the Ohio Republican organization remained the most interesting phase of Ohio's pre-primary campaign today.

The state G. O. P. organization backing the "favorite son" candidacy of Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati will hold a big rally tonight in Cleveland. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, candidate for delegate-at-large on the Taft slate, is expected to be a speaker.

Taft at Canton
Taft spoke last night at Canton while Borah continued a one-week campaign tour of the state, speaking at Zanesville. Borah is to appear at Ada, home of Ohio Northern university, tonight.

Taft devoted almost his entire Canton speech to criticism of the new deal, charging the Roosevelt administration with failure to relieve unemployment.

"The failure to end unemployment is fundamental," he said. "There were 10 or 12 million unemployed when President Roosevelt took office. There are 10 or 12 million unemployed today."

"There can be no real recovery until this number is greatly reduced, the purchasing power of millions restored, and men supplied with the opportunity to work."

Borah, in his Zanesville address, refuted charges that his candidacy was part of a "stop Landon" movement.

"They say I am part of some kind of combination to stop Governor Landon," Borah said. "I don't know just why they circulate that. I don't join combinations, and I have never been a member of a combine in a political fight in my life."

The Idaho senator also renewed his attack upon the Ohio "favorite son" plan of selecting convention delegates.

"The favorite son plan is a scheme, a deception, and a fraud upon its face, and Mr. Taft ought to be too much of a gentleman to join with the crowd that is backing such a proposal," he said.

A BISHOP AT CIRCLEVILLE

The General Conference in Columbus, lent us a Bishop here in Circleville last Sunday morning. Bishop J. Ralph Magee is at home in St. Paul, Minnesota. He is a goodly specimen of physical manhood with a mind to correspond and the courage to express it.

It was a disappointment, doubtless, to both the Bishop and the pastor, that he was greeted with so small a congregation. On Easter Sunday we put on our finery, parade the streets and fill the church to its capacity. We are just like that, though.

The Bishop, after some introductory remarks and an incidental reference to the liquor evil, he mentioned that last night in a Columbus hotel, he was compelled to appeal to the manager for the suppression of the late hour rioters who were making the night and the halls hideous with their drunken tumult and confusion.

And he added as if for good measure, that he had not appreciated, in all his travels about the country, that the debauchery of drink had so much increased until he struck Ohio. A fine impression of Ohio, we submit, for a leading churchman to carry back with him to the people of the north-west.

He then launched into one of the most practical and courageous sermons we have listened to in a very long time. He called a spade a spade and things by their right names. We run into debt on the installment plan trying to keep up with our neighbors the Joneses. Men and women who never drank liquor in all their mortal lives, now indulge in cock-tails in order to maintain their social prestige, don't you know. The preacher must not mention, let alone condemn the methods of doing modern business; and he must refrain from any mention of politics. He must "preach the Gospel" only. That is to say, that if he has a scoundrel in his church who is growing richer by questionable methods, he must make no reference to that fact. He must attend strictly to his own knitting and in no way or manner interfere with the "liberty" of his members.

Lack of space forbids further details. He concluded with an eloquent reference to the character and quality of Paul the Apostle who boldly confessed that, amid all his conflicts and sufferings, he was "Controlled by the Love of Christ."

What this old world needs more than it has needed anything in a long time, are churchmen brave enough to preach not only the Gospel but the condemnation of the scoundrelism and hypocrisy in both business and politics.

SHEPARD TAKES NEW SCHOOL JOB

Kingston Superintendent to Head New Ross-Co District

KINGSTON, May 6. — Appointment of M. A. Shepard, for 14 years superintendent of the Kingston school district, as superintendent of the recently created Union-Scioto district for three years was announced Tuesday by the board of education of that district. Shepard tendered his resignation to the Kingston board at its meeting Monday night. It accepted "reluctantly and resentfully."

It was also announced by the Union-Scioto board that its new $103,000 school building, rapidly rising on the site at the junction of the Frankfort and Egypt pikes, northwest of Chillicothe, probably will be chartered for next year as a nine-year junior high school.

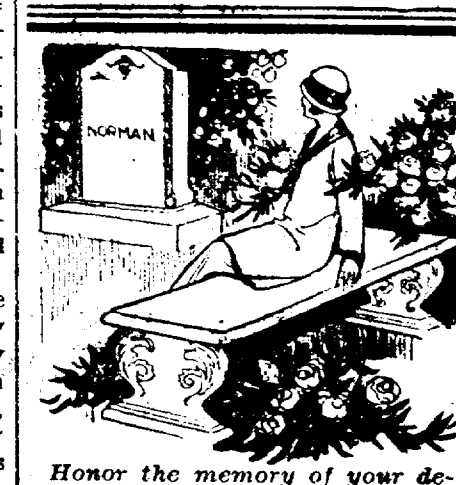

F. M. Shelton, state supervisor of high schools, inspected the building Monday and went over the plans for the district for next year. He will make his charter recommendations to the state director of education.

An enumeration of pupils will be made within the next two weeks, and an emergency requisition to start the foundation Sept. 1st on the basis of a minimum of 300 pupils in the first six grades and 150 in the junior high school will go to the state department of education. The estimate of pupils includes about 60 from the government reservation who are expected to attend the new school.

Mr. Shelton said he was pleased with the location, appearance and plans for the school.

The new building will eliminate 11 one-room schools in the district. Equipment for the elementary grades will be taken from these one-room schools, repaired and placed in the new building. All new equipment will be provided this summer for industrial arts, home economics and science courses.

BUYING FUTURES

IMPROVEMENT of North Court street is proceeding at a pace surprising to most of us who believed the work would be completed about next snowfall. Directors of this work and the laborers as well are doing a fine job. The government likewise is doing well in providing employment for the scores of men who otherwise would be forced to loaf and live off of charity.

What would we do with our unemployed were it not for these government projects?
A pertinent question. It may be, as some contend, that we are not getting full value for improvements for our dollars spent. If that is true then part of each dollar expended should be charged to the maintenance of public morale. Thinking persons will not censure such expenditures when part of the sum is regarded as buying insurance for a land of liberty.

Turn your ears as you will and little if any communistic talk will be heard among the men on federal projects. What would be the trend of thought were these men unemployed is not difficult to imagine.
Yes, that North Court street job is a good one.

SLOW PROGRESS

AT THE national conference of chemists
last week in Kansas City it was disclosed that the step from silk worm to machine was 4,000 years in the making. It was that long before scientists thought of taking the same natural elements the silk worm uses and producing a more uniform thread than the worm produces.

It reminds how slowly the clock of progress moves. Think of the ages which must have passed before it was discovered that articles could be moved on rolling logs more easily than on a drag, and later that a section of log could be made into a wheel. It required thousands of years for man to perfect a hook upon which he could catch fish and other thousands to add the barb which held the fish once they were caught. The royal table of Queen Elizabeth was not equipped with forks. Until our own time no fault was found with the common drinking cup. Every school had one, there was one in every railway coach. All through history and before, a common drinking vessel was customary and the penalities were traced to other causes.

WASHINGTON—The larger the bene-

the wails of big business anguish.

Witness the duPonts, most famous mun-in America. The names of Pierre, Lam-

to such New Deal enemies as the Liberty

cil, the Southern Committee to Uphold the Loudest complaint is that the New Deal is hamstringing business. But recently the duPont Company issued to stockholders its

BOONDOGLING?

At this press conference a newsman asked Secretary Morgenthau: "How do you explain the continued rise in price of government bonds the last few days? Is the Treasury planning a new bond issue?"

"No, but the explanation is very simple,"
said Morgenthau, with a twinkle in his eye.
"After the President's speech in Baltimore the young people of the country were so buoyed up with confidence in the future that they went out and invested in government bonds."

"Huh," grunted the reporter, "what have they been buying them with, relief money?"

HOLLYWOOD SEDITION

Motion picture actors and authors are stirring up a lot of backfire against Red-hunting Congressman Charles Kramer and his sedition bill, which would put free speech back to the days of A.
Mitchell Palmer.

Those gunning for him include Groucho
Marx, Irving Berlin, Morris Ryskind and Oscar Hammerstein II.

wood—Kramer is having a lot of difficulties, and it looks as if his political days

What they are watching now is whether the tobacco states cooperate. All the Smith-mission to agree among themselves to re-

CHAPTER 39

WARDEN LAWN had been telling of Warden Van Every, Dow's brother, who had left the prison Monday, paroled.

"What time did he leave Monday?" Keyes was studying the picture carefully. "I personally lent him a suit, overcoat, hat, and shoes, besides other things so that he would get where he wanted to go looking like a gentleman. My clothes fit him fairly well, and I often do that for prisoners going out on parole. His hair, of course, was short, but will grow out soon. I car, took him to the station. My tell you, Keyes, I like the man."

"Did you lend him money?"
"He wouldn't take it. Besides he had about $100 saved. He was paid, you know, for his work here. Very little, but if a man is saving he can go out with a little. I've a notion, too, he had some money in a bank in New York. His brother, too, would put him on his feet."

"Ward went to New York City?"
"I think so, but he wasn't intending to stay there. He was going for a few days, until he could get his affairs straightened out, then leave for the west."

"Have you heard from him since he went?"
"No, but I shall before the month is over. His parole provides that for a period of 10 months he must keep in touch with me once a month,
and give me his address."

"About the murder of Margalo Younger—the fact that she was murdered in the house of Dow Van Every?"

"Who hasn't, Keyes? I know what you think, know why you came. You think Ward Van Every did it! When I told you he left here Monday, you were more positive than ever!"

Lawn began slowly putting the file on Ward Van Every in shape again.
One by one he picked up the papers on his desk, and stuffed them back.
The picture he glanced at and, finding Keyes still held one, nodded as if to say it was quite all right that the captain of detectives keep it.

"To tell the truth I didn't know until this evening late that Ward Van Every was out, or that he was in New York at all. Dow Van Every didn't mention it. Do you think he knew?"

"No, Dow didn't know. That was one of the conditions Ward made.
He said he didn't want his brother to know until he was on his way west.
It seems that Dow has adopted Ward's daughter—or perhaps you know?"

Keyes indicated that he did know.
"Ward was afraid that Dow would feel as if this girl, Joyce, I believe is her name—Ward talks about her a lot—should know that her father wasn't killed at all, as he told her, but alive. Not that Dow would tell Joyce that her father was a murderer. Ward isn't afraid of that."

But he wants the girl to think him dead still, as she always has. He insists he isn't fit to be a father to such a girl as his daughter. I guess Ward that Dow Van Every would not be told—unless, of course, he calls or writes. Then I will tell him the truth. But I don't want to write. I just want to tell him. It's the least I can do for Ward."

"Are you usually as fond of your prisoners as you are of Ward Van Every?" "There was a hint of sarcasm in Keyes' voice, which Lawn felt.

"When you live with prisoners, day in and day out, for years as I have, Keyes, you learn to regard them as men," he answered simply. "I had liked him the moment I saw him. You couldn't help that. Now my regard for him, went still higher."

"On the moon train. I personally lent him a suit, overcoat, hat, and shoes, besides other things so that

Dinner Stories

JUST AS WE SUPPOSED
A widow visited a spiritualistic medium who satisfactorily produced the deceased husband for a little chime.

"Dear John," the widow questioned eagerly, "are you happy now?"

"I am very happy," the spook assured her.

"Happier than you were on earth with me?" the widow continued.

"Yes," John asserted, "I am hap-

"Oh, do tell me, John," the widow cried rapturously, "what is it like in heaven?"

"Heaven?" the spook snapped.
"I ain't in heaven."

MAY

May! queen of blossoms,
And fulfilling flowers,
With what pretty music
Shall we charm the hours?
Wilt thou have pipe and reed,
Blown in the open mead?
Or to the lute give heed
In the green bowers?

Thou hast no need of us,
Or pipe or wire;
Thou hast the golden bee
Ripened with fire;
And many thousands more
Songsters, that thee adore,
Filling earth's grassy floor
With new desire.

Thou hast thy mighty herds,
Tame and free-livers;
Doubt not, by thy music too
In the deep rivers;
And the whole plummy flight
Warbling the day and night
Up at the gates of light,
See, the lark quivers!

LEWIS-ITES

President William Green's recent warning to his A. F. of L.
following to eschew organized partisanship in the coming national campaign naturally is interpreted in labor circles as the Green forces' defiance to the policy of President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers. Lewis already has put his cohorts on record in favor of President Roosevelt's re-election.

Green, of course, does not argue that workmen are unentitled to their individual political preferences; but as unionists he sticks to the old Compton doctrine that they should not officially take sides.

Lewis' outfit already having time so, the mine workers' leader and supporters are placed in a dilemma of out-and-out revolt.

READY IN REVOLT Lewis, and those who
with him that unionism be placed on an industrial than a craft basis, to which faction adheres, were in between the two positions, but if existed

the question of was raised the

Lewis-ites had challenged the Green-ites to a rank-and-file vote by the A. F. of L. on the issue of industrial versus craft unionization.

NOT REPRESENTATIVE?
On a delegate vote the Green-ites have a present majority. The Lewis-ites admit it. They have to.
It was tested at the last A. F. of L. convention.

The Lewis-ites assert that the delegates no longer are truly representative of the rank-and-file. With subsequent elections of delegates they assert that the delegate majority will be theirs, but that will take time. What they would like is an especially-called rank-and-file ballot right now, to hasten matters.

The Green-ites, if they think they will lose, will not consent—naturally.

SHOWDOWN DELAYED

The Green-ites can delay a showdown, and are doing so.
The Lewis-ites, however, inevitably will have a chance to prove their strength ultimately.

That will outvote the Green-ites when that time comes is problematic. They are confident that they will, but maybe not. If not, they can secede from the A. F. of L. and start industrial unionism on their own account.

Then what?

John L. Lewis reckons that industrial unionism will approach a membership of 40 millions. The
A. F. of L.'s membership is about 4 millions. Lewis' prophecy is that industrial unionism will absorb the
A. F. of L.'s craft system as

Key to Speak Tonight Defense of 'New Deal'

General Scheduled at 8:30 from Hartford; Irene Dunne to Sing in "Bitter Sweet" Monday

Defense of the New Deal will be heard over the airwaves at 8:30 o'clock when James A. Farley, President Roosevelt's postmaster-general, speaks.

The address will come from Hartford, Conn. over the CBS.

Farley's subject will be "Progress Under President Roosevelt".

Another address of interest this evening will be aired at 9 o'clock when Paul Hoffman, president of the Studebaker corporation, speaks on the subject "Making Highways Safe." NBC will carry the address.

Thursday afternoon will provide a splendid program in commemoration of the anniversary of the birth of the great poet, Robert Browning. NBC will provide the American radio premiere of his drama "Pippa Passes" at 2 o'clock. Milton J. Cross, narrator, will head an outstanding cast of dramatic actors and soloists.

Irene Dunne to Sing
Irene Dunne will star in the new radio success "Bitter Sweet" in the Radio Theatre on Monday, May 11, and during the week she will sing three of its hits. The broadcast will be carried over a WABC-CBS network at 8 p. m. (EST).

This is the second time in recent weeks that Radio Theatre has presented a play with music. The other was "Harmony Lane" starring Lawrence Tibbett in the role of Stephen Foster and singing "Foster" songs. In the Noel Coward play Miss Dunne will sing "See You Again," "Call of the Ziegner," the big hits of the production.

"Bitter Sweet" with both play and music by the English actor, composer and playwright, Noel Coward, was one of his most successful works. It was first produced in this country by Florenz Ziegfeld and Arch Selwyn at the Theatre in New York on November 5, 1929.

CYCLOPE CHATTER: The George Olsen-Ethel Shutta production is slated to fold the end of the month. Stunt Churchill has been dropped on his CBS Musical Revue show until late in the season. It is expected to be a night spot. Willis, author of the Betty and Bop and Lights Out programs, has been hired by Hollywood to write for the movies. He will continue to write both scripts from the cinema and the stage. Rubenoff is vacationing in Havana. CHILlicothe HI SCORES 88, WINS IN DUAL MATCH

Tigers Win Few First Places - In Meet on Ross-co

Cincinnati high school's track and field team, appearing without John Jenkins, middle-distance star, lost a lopsided meet to Chillicothe's harriers Tuesday on the Ross-co field. The score was 44 to 88.

The Tigers won only three first places although they gained two ties. John Griffith knocked off the spot in his favorites, the 220-yard low hurdles, and the 120-yard high hurdles. Kenneth Smith vanquished all opposition in the one-half mile to thrill his teammates; Friley tied for first in the pole vault and Melson was deadlocked in the high jump.

The Tigers failed to show much in the field events, and lost both relays. No team was entered against the Chillicothe medley relay crew.

Strausbaugh Stars

Jim Strausbaugh, Chillicothe's all-around athlete, starred by winning the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and the broad jump. He was also a member of the relay teams.

Saturday, the Tigers take part in the Central Buckeye league meet at Delaware. Westerville, by virtue of its lopsided victory over Bexley, is favored to cop the meet.

MID-ATLANTIC LEAGUE OPENS SEASON TODAY

COLUMBUS, May 6.—(UP)—The Mid-Atlantic baseball league was to open its twelfth campaign today.

Opening games sent Canton to Akron; Dayton to Portsmouth; Johnstown to Zanesville; and Charleston to Huntington.

Although the eight teams in the circuit have been in training for the past month little is known of their respective ability. However, Huntington, winner of the 1933 championship and a farm of the St. Louis Cardinals, has been nominated as the pre-season choice for the flag.

About This And That In Many Sports

Birds Need Help

Tis about time Barney Shotton and his Columbus Red Birds toss in the towel, or obtain some help. Minneapolis batters had a lot of fun against the Red Bird mound staff Tuesday, and will probably have fun every time they face the weak Columbus mound staff.

Race Bugs Ready

Circleville racing fans are ready for the opening of Beulah Park's 25-day meet Saturday—Many of the sportsmen have made plans for their first visit to Grove City. A number of good horses including Indian Salute, No Saint, Dozana, Sweet Memories, Irene's Bob, Doc Oster, Flashing Thru and Pavn Ticket will seek to break existing records. The mile record is 1:39 2-5 and the six-furlong is 1:13 1-5.

Some Racing Questions

And now that the Kentucky derby has come and gone, how about a few questions?

1. Can you name five derby winners beside Bold Venture?

2. How about naming two great horses that won the derby?

3. Then name a couple of superior horses that finished second in the event. Or any two that finished second.

4. Now can you recall a pair of great horses that ran in the derby and were unplaced?

5. And last how about naming two of the really great horses that never ran in the derby at all.

Answers to Questions

1. Ben Brush (1896), Hindoo (1881), Omar Khayyam (1917), Black Gold (1924) and Gallant Fox (1930).
2. Old Rosebud (1914), and Exterminator (1918).
3. Osmand (1927), and Discovery (1934).
4. Ten Broeck (1875), first horse to run a mile in better than 1:40, and Sun Beau (1928), champion money winner of all time.
5. Man o'War (1920), not nominated for derby, and Equivoque (1931), went wrong on eve of race.

ALL BABA-WIPPS SHIKAT IN EAST

Detroit Now Champion of Heavyweight Division

NEW YORK, May 6.—(UP)—Harry Eckman of Detroit, or All Baba the Terrible Turk, as he prefers to be known, brought to the motor-city additional sports fame today—the heavyweight wrestling championship.

The pot-bellied Turk removed all doubts as to his championship calibre when the former titleholder, Dick Shikat of Germany, succumbed after 53 1/2 minutes of grappling in Madison Square garden last night.

Ali's victory apparently satisfied the last questioner of his superiority in the wrestling business—the New York Athletic commission.

It was the second time Ali had "won the title" in the last 10 days, but the commission ruled Shikat's defeat in Detroit didn't count because of Michigan's "no decision" law. So, it all had to be done over again under the commission's watchful eye.

All went about accomplishing his task in the best modern tradition—elbowing, kneeing, shoving and kicking. Shikat added a few specialties like tweaking the Turk's nose or yanking his walrus mustaches after which Ali would implore "Allah" for aid.

Shikat appeared to be winning most of the time, but the crowd of 6,000 was all for the Turk.

Shikat's defeat scrambled plans for a championship bout with Everett Marshall at Denver, Colo., May 22, but some of the wrestling moguls at the ringside indicated that it might be arranged for Ali Baba, the new champion, to substitute for Shikat.

going the route for Indianapolis and Herring for St. Paul.

Louisville pushed Kansas City out of first place with a 5 to 1 victory. The Colonels made 12 hits off of Niggeling and Mohrrief, while Peterson allowed the Blues eight safeties.

Milwaukee rallied in the last of the eighth to score three runs and defeat Toledo 7 to 6. The Mud Hens had counted three times in each the seventh and eighth innings to take a 6 to 4 lead. Each team made 10 hits.

Minneapolis made 11 hits count for 13 runs to defeat Columbus 13 to 6. Starting with three runs in the first the Millers stayed ahead throughout.

National League Race Wide Open; Other Tight

Four and One-Half Games Separate First and Eighth Places; Grove Stars for Red Sox

NEW YORK, May 6.—(UP)—The fourth week of major league baseball competition began today with the national campaign still wide open chase and all eight clubs possible pennant contenders. The situation is somewhat different in the American league where the race apparently has narrowed down to three or four teams, although the others cannot be counted out yet.

In the senior circuit only four and one half games separate the league-leading Chicago Cubs from the tail-end Brooklyn Dodgers. A single game is the best lead that the Cubs can boast over the fifth place Cincinnati Reds. The St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates, tied for second place, are only a half game out of the lead.

The Boston Red Sox are showing the way in the American with 10 and a half games between them and the last place St. Louis Browns. Washington's Senators, leaders of the second division are four games out of first place.

However, the Sox are not making a runaway race out of it. The New York Yankees have kept exactly a half game behind them since they went into the lead April 29. The Cleveland Indians, former leaders, are only a game behind the Yankees.

Detroit's world champion Tigers, struggling along without the powerful bat of Hank Greenberg for at least another month, have fallen to fourth place, three and one-half games away from the Red Sox. Lefty Grove, in chalking up his fifth victory and third shutout of the season for the Red Sox, yesterday blanked the Tigers 2 to 0. Grove held Detroit to five hits and figured in both Boston's runs. He now has pitched 44 innings with only one earned run being made off him.

Pat Malone, making his initial start of the season, struck out nine men as the New York Yankees sunk the St. Louis Browns 8 to 2. The new murd'ers' row—Gehrig, Rolfe, Dickey and Di Maggio—got 13 of the Yank's 15 basehits. Gehrig led the way with four and the others obtained three each.

With two out and two men on base Wally Moses hit a home run in the 10th to give the Philadelphia Athletics an 8 to 5 win over the Chicago White Sox. The Chicago also registered three four-base blows, two by Zeke Bonura, and one by Manager Dykes.

The $1500 Governor's stake and the Director of Agriculture's purse. Thirty Ohio-owned three year old trotters have been named for the former and the same number of two year olds have been nominated for the latter.

Another three year old stake at the meeting has drawn 17 colts, 12 of whom are candidates for the rich Hambletonian stake to be raced at Goshen, N. Y.

Included among these are: Rosalind, Ruth M. Mac; Gaiety Mite and Scott McElwyn.

LANDON'S DRIVE FOR WEST VOTE

Sam Randolph Hearst and Gov. Frank E. Merriam, trailed the un-instructed delegation headed by Earl Warren in a hotly contested Republican fight.

Without Townsend
Results of the Democratic primary showed that Upton Sinclair's EPIC wing had lost much of its strength since the gubernatorial contest of 1934. It indicated also that the refusal of Dr. Francis E. Townsend to endorse the delegation headed by Rep. John Steven McGroarty prevented the congressman from obtaining united support of Townsend plan followers.

Returns from 8,978 out of the state's 11,708 precincts gave:
Republican: Warren, 285,358; Landon, 207,388.
Democratic: Roosevelt, 654,086; Sinclair, 83,835; McGroarty, 46,882.

Returns from the same number of precincts in the Democratic primary gave:
Roosevelt 499,542.
Sinclair 63,318.
McGroarty 37,209.

The winning Roosevelt delegation, headed by Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo, will cast 44 votes for the president at the Philadelphia convention.

The Republican delegation was released by Warren to vote as the individual members wish. Several members of the group were understood to favor Landon. Warren said the delegates "will be free to act only in the best interests of our party, state and nation."

Charges that Hearst and Merriam backed Landon because they sought control of the party and patronage in California was believed to have influenced balloting for the uninstructed group. Landon, himself, did not enter the fight.

Victory for the Warren slate was considered as an endorsement of former President Herbert Hoover's plan to give the convention full leeway in selecting a presidential nominee and as an open rebuke to the Hearst-Merriam combination.
